Acknowledgement of Country

The place known as Australia comprises the traditional estates of over 250 First Nations language groups. For nearly 50 years now, Australians have increasingly formally recognised the importance of Country and First Nations peoples' relationships and protocols for conducting business in Country. Acknowledging Country shows respect for the Country, and the First Nations' continuing connections to Country.

TASA and the ISA 2023 World Congress, too, wish the cultural protocols to be known to all and observed. The Country we meet on for this World Congress is called Narm. It is the home of the Kulin Nation Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung people. We acknowledge their sovereignty and pay our respects to their elders and ancestors. To learn more, please visit www.aiatsis.gov.au.

Welcome

Welcome Address by the President of the International Sociological Association

Sari Hanafi

We are finally meeting in person. Once we eventually decided to change the date of this XX ISA World Congress of Sociology many questions remained: Should it be online, hybrid, or in-person? Who could not make it? Who would still be fearful of coming too close to others? After almost three years of online meetings due to the COVID-19 pandemic, this major in-person event appears as a historic moment.

It is a great pleasure for me to welcome you, sociologists from all over the world, to our XX ISA World Congress of Sociology. This twentieth anniversary is unique for our international community to celebrate.

It is unique for two reasons: First, 81 years after our first Congress, which started with a limited number of participants and Research Committees, it now gathers thousands of sociologists from all over the globe and keeps striving to ensure better diversity and inclusivity (in terms of region, career stage and gender). The regularity of these congresses demonstrates the capacity of the ISA to build a bridge between different scientific communities, even during the Cold War. Part of my presidential project during these five years has been to work on the specificity of this twentieth edition: the Global Mapping of Sociologists, along with all ISA past Congresses and Forums' abstracts of sessions and their presenters' details are available online. Two reports were also commissioned to study plenaries at past congresses and examine the development of some Research Committees, their changing forms and contents in terms of topics, theories and methodologies, publications, as well as the nature of National Associations' participation in congresses. Additionally, our Academic Writing Workshops are here to enhance the participation of young researchers from the Global South, not only in our congresses but also in ISA publications.

This XX Congress is also unique for being our first hybrid one, setting forward new rules for reducing our carbon footprint in a digital, post-COVID, sustainability-oriented age. We envisaged different scenarios, but the outcome has been most encouraging, with more than 6,400 accepted abstracts. The Program Coordinators did a great job assessing the submissions.

When we chose the theme for this Congress, Resurgent Authoritarianism: Sociology of New Entanglements of Religions, Politics, and Economies, authoritarianism was not as widespread as it is now, including in the Global North. Its growth has been facilitated by the gradual “symbolic thickening” of public culture through combinations of extreme nationalist and religious fervor, notably when a national conservative project replaces the liberal political project, and public reason becomes incapable of dealing with either a unified conception of justice or different conceptions of the good in society. With more hierarchical polarization in society, we live in a time when reasonable public debate is often impossible. These are demagogical times animated by the vertiginous rise of populism and many levels of misunderstanding between the religious and the secular, in our scholarship and media, and in their relationship to politics, economy, and culture. Religiosity is increasing in many regions, and secularism has become, in some countries, a civic religion against other religions, particularly those of populations originating from migration.

The Congress program has been the subject of many meetings of the Program Committee. The Local Organizing Committee, headed by Dan Woodman, has shouldered tremendous logistic work. I want to thank them all. After long deliberations by the Program Coordinators and ISA Executive Committee members and thanks to the terrific work of our Executive Secretary Izabela Barlinska and her team, we have ended up with a wonderful program, with most speakers present.

Discours de bienvenue du Président de l'Association internationale de Sociologie

Nous voilà enfin réunis en personne. Une fois la décision prise de changer la date de ce XX^e Congrès Mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA, de nombreuses questions étaient restées en suspens : Fallait-il organiser un congrès virtuel, hybride ou présentiel ? Qui ne pourrait pas venir ? Qui restait réticent à s'approcher trop près des autres ? Après près de trois années de réunions en ligne en raison de la pandémie de Covid-19, cet important rendez-vous en présentiel apparaît comme un moment historique.

Je suis très heureux de vous accueillir, vous qui êtes des sociologues venus du monde entier, à notre XX^e Congrès Mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA. Ce vingtième anniversaire est remarquable, et ce pour deux raisons.

D'abord parce que, 81 ans après son premier congrès, qui avait rassemblé un nombre limité de participants et de comités de recherche, l'ISA réunit aujourd'hui pour cette XX^e édition des milliers de sociologues du monde entier, avec toujours le souci d'assurer une plus grande diversité et une meilleure inclusion du point de vue géographique, de l'étape de la carrière et du genre. La régularité des congrès de l'ISA démontre la capacité de l'Association à jeter un pont entre les différentes communautés scientifiques, et ce même pendant la guerre froide. Une partie de mon projet présidentiel au cours de ces cinq années a consisté à travailler dans ce sens, avec d'une part le Global Mapping of Sociologists, une « cartographie mondiale des sociologues », et d'autre part la mise en ligne des résumés de tous les Congrès et Forums passés de l'ISA. Deux rapports ont par ailleurs été commandés pour étudier les plénières des congrès passés et analyser l'évolution, tant au niveau de la forme que des contenus, des sujets, des théories, des méthodologies et des publications de certains comités de recherche, ainsi que la nature de la participation des associations nationales aux congrès. Des ateliers d'écriture académique sont également proposés pour favoriser la participation des jeunes chercheurs des pays du Sud global, non seulement aux congrès de l'ISA mais aussi à ses publications.

Ce XX^e congrès est également remarquable car c'est notre premier congrès hybride, établissant de nouvelles règles pour réduire notre empreinte carbone pour une ère numérique post-Covid orientée vers la durabilité. Nous avons envisagé différents scénarios, mais les résultats ont été très encourageants, avec plus de 6400 résumés acceptés. Les coordinateurs du programme ont fait un excellent travail d'évaluation des soumissions.

Lorsque nous avons choisi le thème de ce Congrès, Résurgence de l'autoritarisme : Sociologie des nouveaux enchevêtrements entre religions, politique et économie, l'autoritarisme n'était pas aussi répandu qu'aujourd'hui, y compris dans les pays du Nord global. Sa progression a été facilitée par « l'épaississement symbolique » progressif de la culture publique produit par des combinaisons de ferveur extrême à la fois nationaliste et religieuse – notamment lorsqu'un projet national conservateur vient remplacer le projet politique libéral, et que la raison publique devient incapable d'envisager une conception unifiée de la justice ou différentes conceptions du bien dans la société. Dans un contexte de plus forte polarisation hiérarchique de la société, nous vivons une époque où un débat public raisonnable est souvent impossible. L'heure est à la démagogie, encouragée par la montée vertigineuse du populisme et par les multiples niveaux d'incompréhension entre religieux et laïcs, à travers nos travaux et à travers les médias, et dans la relation qu'ils entretiennent avec la politique, l'économie et la culture. La religiosité augmente dans de nombreuses régions du monde, tandis que la laïcité est devenue, dans certains pays, une religion civique dressée contre les autres religions, notamment celles des populations issues de l'immigration.

Le programme du Congrès a fait l'objet de nombreuses réunions du Comité de Programme. Le Comité local d'Organisation, dirigé par Dan Woodman, a réalisé un énorme travail logistique. Je tiens à tous les remercier. Après de longues délibérations des coordinateurs du programme et des membres du Comité exécutif de l'ISA, et grâce à l'excellent travail de notre secrétaire exécutive Izabela Barlinska et de son équipe, nous avons mis sur pied un formidable programme et pouvons compter sur la présence ici à Melbourne de la plupart des intervenants.

Sari Hanafi,
Président de l'Association internationale de Sociologie

Discurso de bienvenida del Presidente de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología

Por fin nos encontramos en persona. Cuando finalmente decidimos cambiar la fecha de este XX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA, muchas preguntas quedaron por responder: ¿Debería ser en línea, híbrido o presencial? ¿Quién no podría venir? ¿Quién seguiría teniendo miedo de acercarse demasiado a los demás? Después de casi tres años de reuniones en línea debido a la pandemia de COVID-19, este gran evento presencial aparece como un momento histórico.

Es un gran placer para mí darles la bienvenida a nuestro XX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA. Este vigésimo aniversario es notable para nuestra comunidad internacional de sociólogos y sociólogas, por dos razones.

En primer lugar, 81 años después de su primer Congreso, que reunió un número limitado de participantes y Comités de Investigación, la ISA reúne ahora en esta vigésima edición a miles de sociólogos y sociólogas de todo el mundo, siempre con el objetivo de lograr una mayor diversidad e inclusión desde el punto de vista geográfico, de la etapa profesional y del género. La regularidad de estos congresos demuestra la capacidad de la ISA para tender puentes entre diferentes comunidades científicas, incluso durante la Guerra Fría. Parte de mi proyecto presidencial durante estos cinco años ha sido trabajar en esta dirección, con el Global Mapping of Sociologists, una "cartografía mundial de sociólogos", y la publicación de los resúmenes de todos los Congresos y Foros anteriores de la ISA. También se han encargado dos informes para analizar las sesiones plenarias de congresos pasados y la evolución, tanto en forma como en contenido, de los temas, teorías, metodologías y publicaciones de algunos Comités de Investigación, así como la naturaleza de la participación de las Asociaciones Nacionales en los congresos. También se ofrecen talleres de escritura académica para fomentar la participación de jóvenes investigadores del Sur Global, no sólo en los congresos de la ISA sino también en sus publicaciones.

Este XX Congreso también es notable por ser nuestro primer congreso híbrido, que establece nuevas reglas para reducir nuestra huella de carbono en una era digital, post-COVID y orientada a la sostenibilidad. Preveíamos diferentes escenarios, pero el resultado ha sido de lo más alentador, con más de 6.400 resúmenes aceptados. Los coordinadores del programa han hecho un gran trabajo evaluando las propuestas.

Cuando elegimos el tema de este Congreso, Autoritarismo resurgente: sociología de las nuevas interrelaciones entre religión, política y economía, el autoritarismo no estaba tan extendido como ahora, incluso en el Norte Global. Su progresión se ha visto facilitada por el "engrosamiento simbólico" gradual de la cultura pública a través de combinaciones de fervor nacionalista y religioso extremo, especialmente cuando un proyecto conservador nacional sustituye al proyecto político liberal y que la razón pública se vuelve incapaz de lidiar con una concepción unificada de la justicia o diferentes concepciones del bien en la sociedad. En un contexto de mayor polarización jerárquica en la sociedad, vivimos en una época en la que un debate público razonable es a menudo imposible. Estos son tiempos demagógicos, favorecidos por el vertiginoso auge del populismo y los múltiples niveles de incomprensión entre religiosos y laicos, en nuestra academia y medios de comunicación, y en su relación con la política, la economía y la cultura. La religiosidad está aumentando en muchas regiones del mundo, y el laicismo se ha convertido, en algunos países, en una religión cívica contrapuesta a otras religiones, especialmente las de las poblaciones de origen inmigrante.

El programa del Congreso ha sido objeto de muchas reuniones del Comité de Programa. El Comité Organizador Local, encabezado por Dan Woodman, ha realizado un enorme trabajo logístico. Quiero darles las gracias a todos ellos. Tras largas deliberaciones de los Coordinadores del Programa y los miembros del Comité Ejecutivo de la ISA, y gracias al valioso trabajo de nuestra Secretaria Ejecutiva Izabela Barlinska y su equipo, hemos logrado un programa fantástico, que cuenta con la presencia de la mayoría de los ponentes aquí en Melbourne.

Welcome Address by the President of The Australian Sociological Association

Welcome to the XX International Sociological Association's (ISA) World Congress of Sociology hosted by The Australian Sociological Association (TASA) in the vibrant city of Narm/Melbourne, Australia! We are honoured to welcome you to this beautiful city and to acknowledge that the Congress will be on the unceded lands of the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung people of the Kulin Nation. TASA acknowledges their living culture and their unique role in the spiritual, social, economic, and environmental well-being of this land. We pay our respect to Elders, past, present and emerging and extend that respect to all First Nations peoples taking part in the Congress.

We are delighted to gather sociologists from all corners of the globe, in person and virtually, to engage in thought-provoking discussions, share insights, and contribute to the theme of this year's conference Resurgent Authoritarianism: Sociology of New Entanglements of Religions, Politics, and Economies. As we embark on this journey, we are proud to be hosting the Congress in a country that is currently undergoing an important democratic process – the Voice Referendum.

The Voice Referendum in Australia is a significant step towards achieving constitutional recognition and advancing the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. This referendum seeks to provide a formal mechanism for their voices to be heard and to empower them in shaping decisions that affect their lives and communities. It is an opportunity to address historical injustices and work towards a more inclusive and equitable society.

As participants in this Congress, we have the privilege of gathering at a time when Australia is actively engaging in this transformative process. We encourage you to reflect on the importance of constitutional recognition and its implications for social research, policy development, and community engagement.

The ISA World Congress of Sociology provides a unique platform for the work of Australian sociology. The almost 800 members of TASA belong to 26 thematic groups that demonstrate our commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration, critical analysis, applied research, and social justice. Australian sociology makes important contributions to understanding and addressing complex social issues both domestically and globally. TASA's official journal – the Journal of Sociology – showcases this scholarship in all its forms.

While you engage in critical discussions and explore the research presented here, we also invite you to take the time to learn about and reflect upon the historical and contemporary experiences of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in Australia. Narm/Melbourne, known as the cultural capital, offers numerous opportunities to engage with Indigenous cultures, artworks, and stories.

We hope that this Congress will be a catalyst for new ideas, collaborations, and transformative actions. Through conversations and the sharing of knowledge, we aim to foster meaningful connections and inspire positive change both within academia and in the wider society.

Welcome to Narm/Melbourne and welcome to the XX ISA World Congress of Sociology – we are excited to host you.

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente de l'Association australienne de Sociologie

Bienvenue au XX^e Congrès Mondial de Sociologie de l'Association internationale de Sociologie (ISA) organisé par l'Association australienne de Sociologie (TASA) dans la ville dynamique de Narm/Melbourne, en Australie ! C'est pour nous un honneur de vous accueillir dans cette belle ville et de rappeler que le Congrès se déroulera sur les terres non cédées du peuple Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung de la nation Kulin. TASA reconnaît la culture vivante et le rôle unique de ce peuple dans le bien-être spirituel, social, économique et environnemental de cette terre. Nous rendons hommage aux anciens, d'hier, d'aujourd'hui et de demain, et étendons ces marques de respect à toutes les personnes des Premières Nations qui participeront au Congrès.

Nous nous réjouissons de réunir des sociologues des quatre coins du monde, en personne et virtuellement, pour participer à des discussions stimulantes, partager leurs idées et contribuer au thème de la conférence de cette année, Résurgence de l'autoritarisme : Sociologie des nouveaux enchevêtrements entre religions, politique et économie. Nous sommes également fiers d'accueillir ce Congrès dans un pays qui connaît actuellement un important processus démocratique, le Voice Referendum.

Ce référendum sur la voix autochtone marque en Australie une avancée majeure sur la voie de la reconnaissance constitutionnelle et la défense des droits des peuples aborigènes et insulaires du détroit de Torres. Ce référendum vise à mettre en place un mécanisme formel permettant aux Aborigènes et aux insulaires du détroit de Torres de faire entendre leur voix et de prendre part aux décisions qui affectent leur vie et leur communauté. C'est l'occasion de remédier à des injustices historiques et d'œuvrer en faveur d'une société plus inclusive et plus juste.

Les participants à ce Congrès ont ainsi le privilège d'être réunis à un moment où l'Australie s'engage activement dans ce processus de transformation. Nous vous encourageons à réfléchir à l'importance de la reconnaissance constitutionnelle et à ses implications pour la recherche sociale, l'élaboration de politiques et l'engagement communautaire.

Le Congrès Mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA constitue une plateforme unique pour le travail des sociologues australiens. TASA compte près de 800 membres actifs dans 26 groupes thématiques, témoignant de notre engagement en faveur de la collaboration interdisciplinaire, de l'analyse critique, de la recherche appliquée et de la justice sociale. La sociologie australienne contribue de façon importante à la compréhension et à la résolution de problèmes sociaux complexes, tant au niveau national que mondial, et le journal officiel de TASA, Journal of Sociology, reflète bien sa diversité.

Vous allez avoir ici l'occasion de participer à des échanges critiques et de découvrir les recherches présentées. Mais nous vous invitons également à prendre le temps d'en savoir plus et de réfléchir sur les expériences historiques et contemporaines des Aborigènes et des insulaires du Détroit de Torres en Australie. Narm/Melbourne, connue comme la capitale culturelle du pays, offre de nombreuses occasions d'entrer en contact avec les cultures, les œuvres d'art et les histoires autochtones.

Nous espérons que ce Congrès servira de catalyseur à de nouvelles idées, collaborations et actions transformatrices. À travers les conversations et le partage des connaissances, nous cherchons à favoriser des liens qui comptent et à inspirer des changements positifs, dans le monde universitaire aussi bien que dans la société en général.

Bienvenue à Narm/Melbourne et au XX^e Congrès mondial de sociologie de l'ISA. Nous sommes ravis de vous accueillir.

Discurso de bienvenida de la Presidenta de la Asociación Australiana de Sociología

Bienvenidos y bienvenidas al XX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología (ISA), organizado por la Asociación Australiana de Sociología (TASA) en la vibrante ciudad de Narrm/Melbourne, Australia. Es un honor darles la bienvenida a esta hermosa ciudad y reconocer que el Congreso se celebrará en las tierras no cedidas del pueblo Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung de la nación Kulin. TASA reconoce su cultura viva y su papel único en el bienestar espiritual, social, económico y medioambiental de esta tierra. Expresamos nuestro respeto a los Ancianos, pasados, presentes y por venir así como a todas las personas de las Primeras Naciones que participan al Congreso.

Estamos encantados de reunir a sociólogos y sociólogas de todos los rincones del mundo, presencialmente y virtualmente, para entablar debates que inviten a la reflexión, compartir ideas y contribuir al tema de la conferencia de este año, Autoritarismo resurgente: sociología de las nuevas interrelaciones entre religión, política y economía. También quiero destacar que nos enorgullece acoger el Congreso en un país que está actualmente viviendo un importante proceso democrático, el Voice Referendum.

Este referéndum para dar voz a la población indígena de Australia supone un gran paso adelante hacia el reconocimiento constitucional y la defensa de los derechos de los pueblos aborígenes e isleños del Estrecho de Torres. Busca proporcionar un mecanismo formal para que los aborígenes e isleños del Estrecho de Torres hagan oír su voz y participen en las decisiones que afectan a sus vidas y comunidades. Es una oportunidad para abordar injusticias históricas y obrar por una sociedad más inclusiva y justa.

Los participantes en este Congreso tienen el privilegio de reunirse en un momento en el que Australia está activamente comprometida en este proceso de transformación. Les animamos a reflexionar sobre la importancia del reconocimiento constitucional y sus implicaciones para la investigación social, el desarrollo de políticas y el compromiso comunitario.

El Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA ofrece una plataforma única para el trabajo de los sociólogos australianos. Los casi 800 miembros de TASA pertenecen a 26 grupos temáticos que demuestran nuestro compromiso con la colaboración interdisciplinar, el análisis crítico, la investigación aplicada y la justicia social. La sociología australiana contribuye de manera importante a comprender y abordar cuestiones sociales complejas tanto a nivel nacional como mundial, y la revista oficial de TASA, Journal of Sociology, pone de relieve su diversidad.

Mientras participan en debates críticos y descubren la investigación que aquí se presenta, también les invitamos a que dediquen tiempo a conocer y reflexionar sobre las experiencias históricas y contemporáneas de los pueblos aborígenes e isleños del Estrecho de Torres en Australia. Narrm/Melbourne, conocida como la capital cultural, ofrece numerosas oportunidades para relacionarse con las culturas, obras de arte e historias indígenas.

Esperamos que este Congreso sea un catalizador de nuevas ideas, colaboraciones y acciones transformadoras. A través de conversaciones y del intercambio de conocimientos, pretendemos fomentar conexiones significativas e inspirar cambios positivos tanto en el mundo académico como en la sociedad en general.

Les deseamos a todos y a todas la bienvenida a Narrm/Melbourne y al XX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA: estamos encantados de recibirles.

Welcome from the Congress Local Organising Committee Co-Conveners

It is wonderful to have you join us for the XX ISA World Congress of Sociology. Melbourne is called Narm in the local First Nations language and our meeting place is on the unceded lands of the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung people of the Kulin Nation. First Nations people have been coming together to discuss ideas on the land on which we meet for over 40,000 years. We pay our respect to the Elders, past and present, of the Kulin nation and to all First Nations elders and people taking part in the Congress.

The Australian Sociological Association (TASA) was awarded hosting rights in mid-2016, and much has happened in the intervening seven years. During the Covid-19 pandemic we questioned whether we would be able to share our remarkable city with you and the Congress was delayed by a year. So, if you are joining us in-person, we are delighted to finally welcome you to Melbourne!

The heart of this Congress will be the many intellectual contributions made in the hundreds of sessions and thousands of papers being delivered across the week. The great variety of topics is held together by our prescient Congress theme, chosen by ISA President Sari Hanafi, of Resurgent Authoritarianism: The Sociology of New Entanglements of Religions, Politics, and Economies. We hope you get to see some of your favourite scholars present and discover the early career sociologist who will become one of your new favourites. We wish you luck choosing what to attend among the many options and do encourage you to attend the four Australian Thematic Sessions and other sessions featuring Australian sociologists during the Congress.

It is our pleasure to thank the key people who played a role in making the Congress a reality. Joining us on the Local Organising Committee were Netta Bromdal, Brendan Churchill, Catherine Hastings, Kim Humphrey, Sonia Martin, Theresa Petray, Alpha Possamai-Inesedy, Brady Robards, and Georgia Van Toorn. Anna Halafoff, Shanthi Robertson, and Katie Hughes were also members of the committee at earlier points. In particular, we want to acknowledge Katie's leadership in TASA's bid to host the Congress. TASA's Indigenous Portfolio leader Joann Schmider also offered the LOC invaluable advice on numerous occasions. Thank you also to Sari Hanafi, and the Congress Program Committee, the ISA Executive Committee, ISA's Council of National Associations and Research Council and TASA's Executive Committee. Planning this Congress in the context of the pandemic involved difficult decisions for the ISA and TASA and the members of these decision-making groups approached these challenges with empathy, professionalism, and a level head.

Thank you to the teams at Confex and Arinex who provided the professional support needed to put on an event this size. Thank you also to the team at the Melbourne Convention Bureau who supported our bid to host the Congress and to our sponsors, particularly the State Government of Victoria for their generous support. Finally, we are sincerely grateful to Izabela Barlinska and the team in the ISA office, and to our esteemed colleague Sally Daly, the Executive Officer at TASA, for the incredible effort, professionalism and patience.

Social connection is a crucial part of ISA events, and particularly so as we come together both in-person and virtually, for many of us in our first meeting with colleagues in many years. Our city is famous for its laneways, covered in street art, its cultural life and cultural diversity along with its great food and coffee. For those attending in person, we hope you get to experience some of our wonderful city during your time with us in Narm/Melbourne.

Dan Woodman and Jo Lindsay
Co-Conveners, XX World Congress of Sociology Local Organising Committee

Message de bienvenue des co-présidents du Comité local d'Organisation du Congrès

Nous nous réjouissons de pouvoir vous compter parmi nous à l'occasion de ce XX^e Congrès Mondial de Sociologie de l'ISA. Melbourne s'appelle Narrm dans la langue locale des Premières Nations, et notre lieu de rencontre se trouve sur les terres non cédées du peuple Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung de la nation Kulin. Cela fait plus de 40.000 ans que les membres des Premières Nations se retrouvent pour échanger des idées sur les terres sur lesquelles nous nous trouvons aujourd'hui réunis. Nous souhaitons rendre hommage aux Anciens, d'hier et d'aujourd'hui, de la nation Kulin, et à tous les anciens et membres des Premières Nations venus participer à ce Congrès.

L'Association australienne de Sociologie (TASA) s'est vu confier l'organisation du Congrès au milieu de l'année 2016, or il s'est passé beaucoup de choses depuis. Pendant la pandémie de Covid-19, nous nous sommes demandé si nous serions en mesure de vous accueillir dans notre merveilleuse ville, et le Congrès a finalement été reporté d'un an. Si vous y assistez en personne, nous sommes donc ravis de pouvoir enfin vous accueillir ici à Melbourne !

Le cœur de ce Congrès sera constitué par toutes les contributions intellectuelles apportées au cours des centaines de sessions et des milliers de communications qui seront présentées tout au long de la semaine. Les divers sujets abordés s'articulent autour du thème prémonitoire du Congrès, choisi par le Président de l'ISA, Sari Hanafi, Résurgence de l'autoritarisme: Sociologie des nouveaux enchevêtrements entre religions, politique et économie. Nous espérons que vous aurez l'occasion de rencontrer en personne certains des chercheurs qui vous intéressent le plus et que vous en découvrirez de nouveaux parmi la jeune génération de sociologues. Nous vous souhaitons de bien choisir vos activités parmi les nombreuses options disponibles et vous encourageons à assister aux quatre sessions australiennes thématiques et aux autres sessions auxquelles participeront des sociologues australiens tout au long du Congrès.

Nous souhaitons remercier les principales personnes qui ont contribué à ce que ce Congrès devienne réalité. Netta Bromdal, Brendan Churchill, Catherine Hastings, Kim Humphrey, Sonia Martin, Theresa Petray, Alpha Possamai-Inesedy, Brady Robards et Georgia Van Toorn ont pris part au travail du Comité local d'Organisation. Anna Halafoff, Shanthi Robertson et Katie Hughes ont également été membres du Comité à des étapes précédentes. Nous tenons en particulier à souligner le rôle de premier plan joué par Katie dans la candidature de TASA pour accueillir ce Congrès. Joann Schmider, responsable des affaires indigènes de TASA, a également offert au Comité local d'Organisation de précieux conseils à de nombreuses reprises. Merci également à Sari Hanafi, au Comité de Programme du Congrès, au Comité Exécutif de l'ISA, au Conseil des Associations Nationales et au Conseil de la Recherche de l'ISA, ainsi qu'au Comité Exécutif de TASA. Pour les deux associations, la planification de ce congrès dans le contexte de la pandémie a impliqué des décisions difficiles, qui ont été abordées avec empathie, professionnalisme et sérénité par leurs organes de décision.

Merci aux équipes de Confex et d'Arinex qui ont apporté le soutien professionnel nécessaire à l'organisation d'un événement de cette envergure. Merci également à l'équipe du Melbourne Convention Bureau qui a soutenu notre candidature pour accueillir le Congrès, et à nos partenaires, en particulier le gouvernement de l'État de Victoria pour son généreux soutien. Enfin, nous sommes sincèrement reconnaissants à Izabela Barlinska et à l'équipe du secrétariat de l'ISA, ainsi qu'à notre chère collègue Sally Daly, responsable exécutive de TASA, pour leur extraordinaire travail, leur professionnalisme et leur patience.

Le lien social est un élément essentiel des rendez-vous de l'ISA, a fortiori lorsque nous nous réunissons avec des collègues à la fois en personne et virtuellement, pour beaucoup d'entre nous pour la première fois depuis des années. Notre ville est célèbre pour ses ruelles investies par le street art, sa vie culturelle et sa diversité culturelle, ainsi que pour sa gastronomie et son café. Nous espérons que ceux d'entre vous qui êtes venus assister au Congrès en personne auront l'occasion de connaître un peu notre merveilleuse ville de Narrm/Melbourne.

Bienvenida de los coordinadores del Comité Organizador Local del Congreso

Es maravilloso tenerles con nosotros en el XX Congreso Mundial de Sociología de la ISA. Melbourne se llama Narrm en la lengua local de las Primeras Naciones y nuestro lugar de reunión está en las tierras no cedidas del pueblo Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung de la Nación Kulin. Los pueblos de las Primeras Naciones llevan más de 40.000 años reuniéndose para debatir ideas en las tierras en las que estamos ahora reunidos. Presentamos nuestros respetos a los ancianos, pasados y presentes, de la nación Kulin y a todos los ancianos y miembros de las Primeras Naciones que participan en el Congreso.

La Asociación Australiana de Sociología (TASA) fue seleccionada a mediados de 2016 para organizar este Congreso, y han pasado muchas cosas desde entonces. Durante la pandemia de COVID-19 nos preguntamos si seríamos capaces de acogerles en nuestra maravillosa ciudad, y el Congreso quedó finalmente aplazado un año. Así que, si nos acompaña hoy en persona, ¡estamos encantados de darles por fin la bienvenida a Melbourne!

El corazón de este Congreso serán las numerosas contribuciones intelectuales realizadas en los cientos de sesiones y miles de ponencias que se presentarán a lo largo de la semana. La gran variedad de cuestiones que se tratarán se mantiene unida por el tema premonitorio del Congreso, elegido por el Presidente de la ISA, Sari Hanafi, Autoritarismo resurgente: sociología de las nuevas interrelaciones entre religión, política y economía. Esperamos que tengan la oportunidad de conocer en persona a algunos de los investigadores que más les interesan y que descubran otros nuevos entre la generación más joven de sociólogos. Les deseamos suerte a la hora de elegir a qué asistir entre las muchas opciones disponibles y les animamos a asistir a las cuatro Sesiones Temáticas Australianas y a otras sesiones en las que participen sociólogos australianos durante el Congreso.

Queremos dar las gracias a las principales personas que han contribuido a hacer realidad este Congreso. Se unieron a nosotros en el Comité Organizador Local Netta Bromdal, Brendan Churchill, Catherine Hastings, Kim Humphrey, Sonia Martin, Theresa Petray, Alpha Possamai-Inesedy, Brady Robards y Georgia Van Toorn. Anna Halafoff, Shanthi Robertson y Katie Hughes también formaron parte del Comité en etapas anteriores. Nos gustaría agradecer especialmente el liderazgo de Katie para impulsar la candidatura de TASA para acoger el Congreso. Joann Schmider, responsable de los asuntos indígenas de TASA, también ofreció al Comité Organizador Local su valiosísimo asesoramiento en numerosas ocasiones. Gracias también a Sari Hanafi, al Comité del Programa del Congreso, al Comité Ejecutivo de la ISA, al Consejo de Asociaciones Nacionales y al Consejo de Investigación de la ISA, y al Comité Ejecutivo de TASA. Para ambas asociaciones, la planificación de este Congreso en el contexto de la pandemia supuso decisiones difíciles, que sus órganos de decisión supieron abordar con empatía, profesionalidad y sensatez.

Gracias a los equipos de Confex y Arinex, que nos han proporcionado el apoyo profesional necesario para organizar un evento de esta envergadura. Gracias también al equipo del Melbourne Convention Bureau, que apoyó nuestra candidatura para albergar el Congreso, y a nuestros patrocinadores, en particular al Gobierno del Estado de Victoria, por su generoso apoyo. Por último, estamos realmente agradecidos a Izabela Barlinska y al equipo del secretariado de la ISA, y a nuestra estimada colega Sally Daly, Directora Ejecutiva de TASA, por su increíble esfuerzo, profesionalidad y paciencia.

La interacción social es una parte crucial de los eventos de la ISA, y más aún cuando nos reunimos, tanto en persona como virtualmente, para muchos de nosotros por primer vez en años. Nuestra ciudad es famosa por sus callejuelas, su arte callejero, su vida cultural y su diversidad cultural, y también por su estupenda gastronomía y café. Esperamos que los que han venido a asistir al Congreso en persona tengan la oportunidad de conocer un poco nuestra maravillosa ciudad de Narrm/Melbourne.
